Kanone-kun...Hilbert-san...

What is fate? What is the fate of the Blade Children? Darkness? Destruction? Death?

You just disappeared again. I lost you once more. The wind just blow my tears away. Yes, tears. I was crying, showing my feelings. I was crying for the first time of my live. Do you know what it means? Do you know that I'm crying? Can you feel the pain of my heart?

We are on different paths. But...there's only one world... We are still in the same world...so we still have something in common. Maybe...one day...our paths will meet again...

You said that I'm following a light of illusions. You said that Kiyotaka's words were wrong. But...you followed him, too. And now? Now you are on the other side. Did something happen? What happened two years ago when you went away for the first time? Back in these days it was a shock for me. You just went away without a reason. You left me alone...for years...then suddenly you wrote a letter to me. But...what did you do in all this time? Where have you been?

In my music...sometimes...I can feel the warmth of your breath. You being close to me. Right then I'm feeling free and happy. But, on the other side...everything in me shatters from the bottom of my heart. It's the coldness in my heart...the warmth has gone and all I see is you deceiving me...

When did we lost our precious friendship? Which moment was it, when we were torn apart? I still don't understand how this could ever happen. Back in the days when we were young, everything was so different from now. Of course, we had to worry about the hunters and our destiny, but now? The worries are still the same but we have changed. I can't trust you anymore...not after the last events, not after you tried to kill my friends. But...after all...I still need you by my side...how does that fit together? Please tell me. Am I lonely after all? No matter how many friends I have, I'm still lonely, because you are not near me?!

Why don't you believe in Kiyotaka's words anymore? Is it my fault? Maybe...I was too busy with my career as the great pianist Eyes Rutherford. Maybe I didn't recognize how you felt into the deep darkness of your heart without any hope for a good life? I turned away from you, didn't I? I'm sorry...but I can't change the past...we can only build our future...but to do that, you'll have to believe into your own future. I hope...that some day...you will do...

I want to be with you. That is all I know. But how should I do? You are far away now, again, you left me alone. I'm having my duties right here and maybe you have some, too. I hope that there will be a possibility to meet you again, as friends, not as enemies. I want you to be with me, forever...my truly best friend and love...
